Principal Report

NAPLAN Results

Each year, the Year Three and Year Five students at our school sit the NAPLAN, as part of a national assessment program of student learning outcomes. On August 2nd, the 2017 aggregate results for schools (nationally) were published on the ACARA website; this information contains the preliminary summary results of the 2017 National Assessment Program – Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) tests. For further information, refer to <http://reports.acara.edu.au/>

We look forward to unpacking our school's NAPLAN data, and sharing this with the community in the coming months. The valuable data sets we gain from NAPLAN, will form part of the evidence we use to drive our school forward.

Individual Student Results - for all students who sat the 2017 NAPLAN, individual reports will be posted in hard copy this week.

Parent Opinion Survey

It is that time of year again where schools are required to randomly select families to complete the annual Parent Opinion Survey. The selection is completed by our computer system, CASES21, and the survey results are a vital tool for us to gain an indication of how well Camelot Rise Primary School is meeting the needs of our students and the school community.

As mentioned in previous newsletters, the process is now being completed on-line, which involves selected families receiving an email containing a letter from the school and instructions of how to complete the survey. May I encourage everyone to check your email address, and if you have been selected, please complete the survey by Sunday 27th August. Thank you to those families that have already completed the survey and we look forward to receiving the results.

Environmental Dress Up Day

Last Friday our students were encouraged to dress up to support the World Wildlife Fund (WWF). Students dressed up as endangered or threatened animals, in floral or bright clothes to represent flowers, earth colours, seasons and trees. Thank you to the Environment team and Rachel Walter for organising this event.

Book Fair

The Book Fair has been running for the last few days out of the school library. The support of the annual fair from our families results in many books being purchased for our library and classroom libraries. Thank you to Catherine Loria and her team of helpers and to the students and families that supported the fair.

Books for PNG

The Books for PNG drive has now finished. Adam A in 6A led this project over the past couple of months. There have been hundreds of donations from our families of new and used books which will now be collected and sent overseas to Papua New Guinea to support schools and children in need of more resources. Thank you to Adam for his efforts with this project and to the families and staff that supported him.

Please remember my door is always open and I am available whether you are able to make it to the school or not. Email me at thomas.helen.h@edumail.vic.gov.au or call the school on 9803 5344 and ask to speak with me. I'm happy to talk on the spot if I am available or to make an appointment/phone call at another time.

Have a great week.

Illness

There are a number of viruses and illnesses going around our school. If your child is unwell, please keep them home to rest and recuperate.

Obviously, we would like all of the children attending school as often as they can, however no one learns very well when they are ill and there is a high risk that they will pass their illness on to other students.

So if you recognise that your child is not well please make appropriate arrangements for them to stay at home.

亲爱的家长们，

最近学校里有好多病毒感冒事件。如果您的小孩不适，请务必让他们在家休息和康复。

虽然校方非常希望孩子们尽可能不缺课，可是当孩子生病时，集中精神学习是非常困难的。更大的风险是，孩子们将其病毒传染给其他学生和工作人员。

所以如果您的孩子不适，请您务必做出妥善安排让孩子在家休息养病。

感谢您的谅解与支持！

Assistant Principal Report

Victorian Curriculum – Critical & Creative Thinking

The Critical and Creative Thinking Capability is organised into three interrelated strands:

Strands	Questions and Possibilities	Reasoning	Meta-Cognition
	Exploring the nature of questioning and a range of processes and techniques to develop ideas.	Exploring how to compose, analyse and evaluate arguments and reasoning.	Exploring the use of strategies to understand, manage and reflect on thinking and learning processes.

The Critical and Creative Thinking capability focuses on the development of increasingly complex and sophisticated processes of thinking. Critical and creative thinking processes are fundamental to effective learning across the curriculum. The knowledge and skills set out in this capability should be taught, learnt, developed and applied in and through each Learning Area.

The Questions and Possibilities strand is the basis for all effective learning and provides a structure for inquiry-based approaches to teaching. Helping students understand the fundamental role that questions and questioning play in enabling learning and developing a learning disposition is a necessary condition for deep learning.

The Questions and Possibilities strand supports students to develop their imaginative and intuitive capacity as well as fostering a curious and speculative disposition. Students apply these to propose novel ideas, develop original artefacts and make new connections.

The Reasoning strand provides students with the knowledge and tools to both construct and evaluate ideas and arguments that may be unfamiliar. It underpins other areas of the curriculum in which students are required to gather, consider and evaluate data, evidence and propositions and then form conclusions.

The Meta-Cognition strand defines the knowledge and skills that enable students to better identify, describe, understand, practice, develop and manage their own learning processes. Critical and creative thinking processes are not discrete but are related within each of the strands. For example, part of creative thinking is establishing and using criteria to critically evaluate the merits of various propositions generated by creative thinking processes. Likewise, critical thinking can involve the application of creative thinking processes to generate novel criteria that can then be used to evaluate propositions in innovative and productive ways.

Rationale

Responding effectively to environmental, social and economic challenges requires young people to be creative, innovative, enterprising and adaptable, with the motivation, confidence and skills to use critical and creative thinking purposefully. Explicit attention to and application of thinking skills enables students to develop an increasingly sophisticated understanding of the processes they can employ whenever they encounter both the familiar and unfamiliar, to break ineffective habits and build on successful ones, building a capacity to manage their thinking.

Thinking that is productive, purposeful and intentional is at the centre of effective learning and the creation of new knowledge, with the progressive development of knowledge about thinking and the practice of using thinking strategies fostering students' motivation for, and management of, their own learning.

Critical and creative thinking are strongly linked. Students require explicit support to develop the breadth and depth of their thinking and to take intellectual risks. This attention to thinking helps students to build self-awareness and their capacities for reflection. Developing critical and creative thinking capability is an essential element of developing successful, confident and innovative members of the community.

Aims

Critical and creative thinking capability aims to ensure that students develop:

- understanding of thinking processes and an ability to manage and apply these intentionally
- skills and learning dispositions that support logical, strategic, flexible and adventurous thinking
- confidence in evaluating thinking and thinking processes across a range of familiar and unfamiliar contexts.
